January 2012

Happy New Year everyone! I hope you all had fun spending quality time with your family and friends over winter break. I know I sure did! It was packed with fun, yet relaxing too. As we dive into 2012, I'm looking forward to a great "rest of the year" with your preschoolers. It will be nice to settle back into the routine of school with them. As always, let me know if you have any questions or concerns regarding your child. I am here to help and I can be reached at home (612)824-1251 or e-mail me at darsuzanna@msn.com WELCOME BACK! ~Suzy Schubloom

January Learning Themes:

Before our holiday break, Room 105 took a poll of all the fun things they wanted to learn about when they came back to school. Here are the results...out of eight themes to choose from the four winners were Fairytales, Winter, Arctic Animals and Transportation. We will be exploring one theme each week during the month of January. How fun to explore the things they are interested in! We will also be doing some fun activities and games with Mrs. Jordan's class this month so keep an eye on our weekly curriculum board to see what's happening each preschool day.

Winter Gear:

Just a reminder to send the following items to school each day with your child: boots, coat, hat, mittens, snow pants and their purple bag to put their shoes in. I am so proud of how well the children can put their outdoor clothing on. Most of them can do it all by themselves! Wow- what independent little preschoolers they are.

Show and Tell Day:

Our next show and tell day is Thursday, January 19th. I will send a reminder home the day before. The children have done such a fabulous job with their speaking and listening skills that we added a period of time on for questions to be asked about the item being shared. It was fun to see that most of the questions asked were relevant to what was being shown.

Volunteer Opportunities:

A BIG thanks to all who helped out in the month of December. It is so fun to have you in the classroom and I know how much your children love it too! Keep an eye on the Parent Information board for opportunities to volunteer during the month of January.

Extras:

On Thursday, January 26th, the preschool will host a Family Fun Night for your entire family. Basically, it's a pizza party for the whole family. There will also be live entertainment and an opportunity to meet and socialize with other Lake Harriet Preschool families. It is a fun event so I hope to see you all there!!!
